Breakdown:

- Although Calendar C was the top choice for both licensed and classified staff, it was the least favored as the second choice. This shows that it is either heavily favored or disfavored.
- Calendar C received the smallest number of votes as the top option and second option by parents.
- If you add the top choice and second choice together, Calendar B is heavily favored by each group.

Superintendent's Recommendation:

The votes have shown that staff tend to favor 4-day weeks as the top option. However, the 4-day week was the least favored second option by all subgroups. My interpretation is that people are either really excited about it or do not think it is a great option. It feels really split at this point.

Calendar B is the top choice by all subgroups if you add the first and second choice together. This tells me that people are comfortable with this calendar and could live with it.

My recommendation would be Calendar B.
