- 10th Grade Kenny Oswald-(Three of Kenny's teachers nominated him)
Kenny is the most insightful, respectful, polite, and responsible young man I have met. (besides my sons!!! He has great questions about current events and can come up with the most provocative "WHY" questions about the state of the world. Kenny is very creative in his skill set. He works for my husband and me on the weekend and his jobs are done well. His input and ability to collaborate with friends and adults create a wonderful working relationship.

I am so glad that he is being recognized for his talents and great personality.

Kenny has been going above and beyond in the welding class. He has taken on the role as shop manager and is helping give advice to the younger welders. He is willing to jump on any project and will help anyone who needs it. Kenny's skills in welding have grown tremendously in the last year and he takes so much pride in his work. I am very proud of Kenny for the work he is doing in the shop.

Kenny is a great role model in class. He is always on task and he is always contributing to class discussions in a meaningful way. When the other students are disrespectful or off task, Kenny takes it upon himself to motivate them to be on task and polite. Furthermore, his work has been really insightful this year. He often provides sound logic and reasoning in his responses.
