The strategies will (mark all that apply)

☒ Provide opportunities for all children, including subgroups of students, to meet the challenging Missouri Learning Standards.

Description of how strategy/strategies will provide

A RTI (Response to Intervention) system is essential in creating an effective learning environment. Teachers meet commonly to determine what curriculum is necessary at each grade level, establish proficiency levels for the standards established in the curriculum, and create common assessments to assess those standards. Teachers use data gained by assessments to determine what students have mastered the standards and intervention is planned to reteach or enrich the standard. Students are also progress monitored three times a year in the areas of reading and math.

☒ Use methods and instructional strategies that strengthen the academic program in the school.
