Section 1: Introduction

Talented and Gifted (TAG) students are an important part of every school community across Oregon. In Oregon, districts and schools must plan for how they will meet the academic and social-emotional needs of TAG students, specific to their local context, and communicate these plans to the students and families they serve.

District-level Talented and Gifted Education Plans serve as an integral communication tool to district educators, families, and community partners. Districts are required to submit their TAG plans to the Oregon Department of Education (ODE) every year, provide copies upon request to schools within their district, and post a copy on their district website. (OAR 581-022-2500 (2)(a)(A))

Oregon laws that govern Talented and Gifted Education include both Oregon Revised Statutes (Oregon laws passed by the State Legislature, abbreviated as ORS) and Oregon Administrative Rules (requirements that are adopted by the State Board of Education to support Oregon Revised Statutes, abbreviated as OAR). Statutes provide legal definitions and broad guidelines specific to gifted education. The Oregon Administrative Rules outline the specific requirements districts implement to meet the minimum standards for identification, parents rights, and programs and services. Specific statutes and OARs are referenced throughout this TAG plan.

Key Terminology

Talented and Gifted Students in Oregon: Students who require special educational programs or services, or both, beyond those normally provided by the regular school program, in order to realize their contribution to self and society. These are students who demonstrate outstanding ability or potential in one or more of the following areas:

- (a) General intellectual ability (often referred to as, Intellectually Gifted).
- (b) Academic ability (often referred to as, Academically Talented) in one or more academic areas (including, but not limited to: reading, mathematics, science, and social science).
- (c) Creative ability in using original or nontraditional methods in thinking and producing.
- (d) Leadership ability in motivating the performance of others either in educational or noneducational settings.
- (e) Ability in the visual or performing arts, such as dance, music or art.

Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS): Oregon laws passed by the State Legislature.

Oregon Administrative Rules (OAR): Rules adopted by the State Board of Education to support statutes (ORS).

Rate of Learning: The pace at which the student is successfully progressing through instructional materials and experiences after being placed at the appropriate level. A student's rate will vary depending on subject, interest, level of difficulty and point in the learning process.

Level of Learning: The instructional level where the student will encounter new knowledge and skills. It involves depth and complexity in thinking.

Historical reference of District TAG Plans: House Bill (HB) 2180 (2011) and Senate Bill 486 (2021).

B. Implementation of Talented & Gifted Education Programs and Services

VISION: Preparing Today for a Successful Tomorrow

MISSION: It is the mission of Lake County School District #7, using the highest educational and ethical standards, to engage all students in meaningful programs in a safe, motivating, and challenging school environment that will build skills for future success in academic and personal excellence, resulting in lifelong learners and productive citizens.

Talented & Gifted Philosophy: We aim to challenge our high-ability students in ways that are unique and meaningful to the individual. Differentiation, enrichment, acceleration, collaboration, and talent development are ways we believe can support students in achieving their best potential.

Differentiation: The TAG program recognizes that high-ability students have unique needs that differ from those of their peers. Differentiation is a key philosophy of the TAG program, as it aims to provide instruction and learning experiences that are tailored to the individual needs and abilities of each student.

Enrichment: The TAG program emphasizes enrichment activities, which are designed to challenge and engage high-ability students beyond the regular curriculum. Enrichment activities may include independent research projects, advanced coursework, or specialized classes in areas such as music, art, or technology.

Acceleration: The TAG program recognizes that some high-ability students may need to accelerate their learning to reach their full potential. Acceleration can take many forms.

Collaboration: The TAG program recognizes that high-ability students benefit from collaboration with peers who share their interests and abilities. Collaboration may involve group projects, peer mentoring, or opportunities to work with professionals in fields related to the student's interests.

Talent Development: The TAG program is focused on identifying and developing the talents and gifts of high-ability students. This may involve providing opportunities for students to explore their interests and passions, and to develop their skills in areas such as leadership, creativity, and problem-solving.

A. District TAG Identification Practices

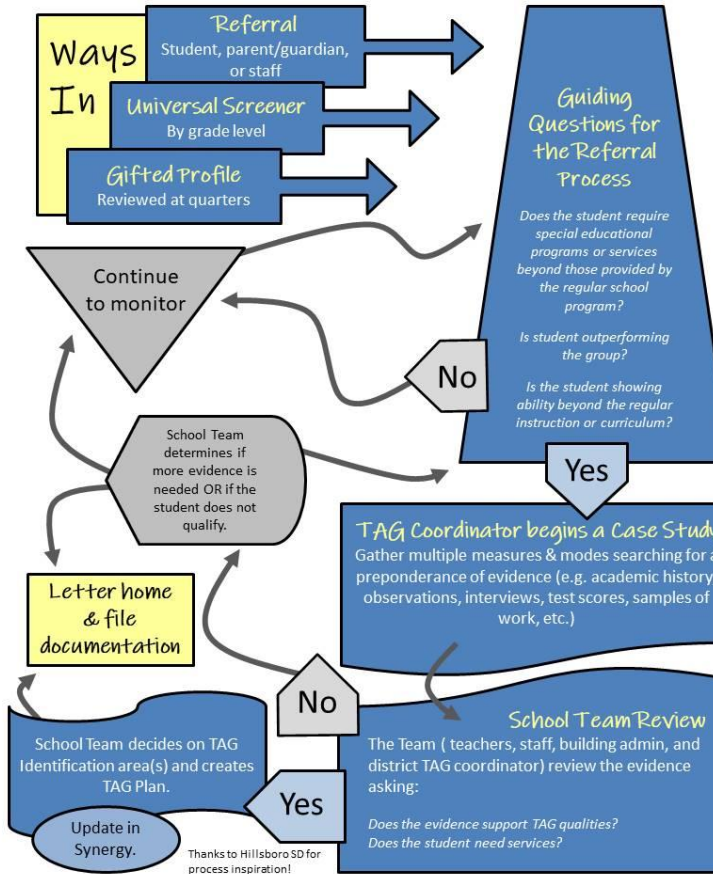

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
TAG Identification Process Overview Aligned to OAR 581-022-2325 (1)	There are three ways into our TAG Process: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Referral by student, parents/guardians, or staff ● Universal screeners done yearly at specific grade levels ● Gifted Profiles assessed by teachers at quarter grading periods Guiding questions for the referral process: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Does the student require special educational programs or services beyond those provided by the regular school program? ● Is the student outperforming their group? ● Is the student showing ability beyond the regular instruction or curriculum? If yes is the answer to any of these questions, the TAG Coordinator begins a Case Study by gathering multiple measures and modes searching for a preponderance of evidence (e.g. academic history, observations, interviews, test scores, samples of work, etc.) If no is the answer to these three questions, we will continue to monitor the student. Once the Case Study has been built, the school team (teacher(s), building administrator, specialists, and district TAG coordinator) will review the evidence asking: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Does the evidence support TAG qualities? ● Does the student need services?

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
	The team will use the district's Preponderance of Evidence form to work through identification. If the team decides on a TAG Identification in one or more areas, a plan is created. A letter is sent home and all documentation is filed. Updates to the student's Synergy record are made. TAG plans are revisited and updated in the fall of each school year. If the team determines the student is not eligible for TAG services, we can either search for more evidence or continue to monitor. Either way, a letter is sent home and all documentation is filed.

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
Multiple modes and methods of data collection used in the identification process. Aligned to OAR 581-022-2325 (2)(b)(c)	LCDS#7 uses multiple modes and methods of data collection - both qualitative and quantitative - in our identification process. Our methods and practices seek to eliminate the effects of bias in assessment and identification of students from historically underrepresented populations. Our identification process seeks to find evidence of talents and gifts in our students, not reasons to exclude. Additionally, we incorporate assessment tools and procedures that help to inform the creation of an appropriate plan of instruction for students who are identified as TAG. For example, our universal screener, CogAT, provides us with reports that include strengths and weaknesses of students and suggestions of instructional practices that may best support the student. All data collected is documented and kept as part of their permanent record. Below is a list of possible modes and methods of data collection. This is not an exhaustive list: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Current and past academic records ● Student Portfolios ● Student Profiles ● Classroom observations ● Student, parent, and staff anecdotal records, observations, and experiences ● Local assessments and norms ● Progress Monitoring <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ K-6 EasyCBM ○ 7-12 STAR ● Universal Screeners <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ K - State Kindergarten Assessment ○ 2 CogAT ○ 3 - 8, 11(12) OSAS SBAC ○ 5, 8, 11 OSAS OSA ○ 9 CogAT ● IQ tests ● PSAT/SAT/ACT/ASVAB ● Other tests administered by other eligibility programs

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
Culturally responsive practices specific to identification. Aligned to OAR 581-022-2325 (1)(a), (2)(d)(A-E)	There are three ways into our TAG Identification process with the intent of being culturally responsive in our identification of students. This is to support different ways of viewing students. We honor local talent and strive to identify students who are excelling in areas that are unique to Lake County - mechanics, welding, woodworking, as a few examples. We have three checks within our identification process for being culturally responsive and diminishing bias. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. We ask teachers to look at ALL students in their care using the Gifted Profiles three times each year (fall, winter, and spring grade days). We ask them to specifically consider students who are typically underrepresented in our community (African American, Asian, Latinx, Native American, and SPED). 2. The questions that guide our process are OR, not AND. If YES is the response to any of the guiding questions, the process continues. 3. All universal screener results are reviewed by the classroom teacher, our TAG Coordinator, and at least one other TAG Team member with specific consideration given to our typically underrepresented populations in our community - as identified above. 4. In our TAG Training with ALL staff each fall, we discuss cultural sensitivity and review the Culturally “_____” Education document from Center for Assessment as a means of reminding staff of the relationship between culture, curriculum, instruction, and assessment. Our aim is to give value to students’ heritage and their cultural uniqueness so that we can honor those in our local context with respect to TAG.

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
	 Credit for Culturally “_____” Education given to the Center for Assessment. A copy of Center for Assessment’s Culturally “_____” Education can be found HERE or requested from our District TAG Coordinator (contact information provided on page 33).
Research-based tools, instruments, or considerations utilized to equitably identify students from underrepresented populations including, but not limited to: students experiencing disabilities, students who are culturally and linguistically diverse	CogAT - Provides reliable, valid, and accurate data for all students, regardless of language, ethnic background, and socioeconomic status. This test provides detailed information on students’ Verbal, Quantitative, and Figural reasoning through multiple, engaging measures that reflect students' potential for learning. Additionally, Riverside Insights, the creator of the CogAT received the 2022 Excellence in Equity Award from the American Council on Education. OSAS - Oregon State’s Assessment System uses Smarter Balance testing for English Language Arts and Math. Smarter Balance’s core principle is accessibility for students who take the test. Smarter Balance ensures equitable access for students with diverse needs

Identification Practices (OAR 581-022-2500)	Evidence and Explanation of Identification Practices
	and preferences. OSAS uses the Oregon Science Assessment which is aligned to the Next Generation Science Standards.
Methods and practices that minimize or seek to eliminate the effects of bias in assessment and identification practices	Assessment: Our universal screener (CogAT) is given to all students in the 2nd and 9th grade level bands. Additionally, because our opt-out-rate is historically very low - 1.5% in 2022 - We can also use OSAS's SBAC as a universal screener. The CoGAT and OSAS tests are disaggregated to local percentiles. We can also look at data across student population groups, so here in Lakeview, we can look at our traditionally underrepresented students separately and compared to our majority populations. We also remove student names as we look at data to lower bias in decision making.
Universal Screening/Inclusive considerations	Our universal screeners (CogAT and SBAC) are given to all students in a grade level band. The only years missing a universal screener of some sort are 1st, 10th, and 12th grades, but these grades still have two other ways into the TAG identification process. Additionally, as part of our process, we disaggregate our universal screening data by population group so we can focus on students who are traditionally underrepresented. Our goal is to seek and find our high ability students and support teachers in supporting our TAG students.
Assessment data, specifically addressing the use of national norms, local norms, or both in identification data collection	CogAT and OSAS data both use national and local norms in their data collection process. We are able to look at our students in both contexts.
Qualitative data (teacher, parent, and student checklists, observational data, portfolios, and classroom performance, etc.)	Current and past academic records - A collection of student's academic records from their Cumulative file will be considered. Student Portfolios - Any collection of evidence from the students school or personal work may be considered.

B. Universal Screening/Inclusive Considerations

Key Questions	District Procedure
Is a universal screening instrument used at a specific grade level?	Yes
What is the broad screening instrument and at what grade level is it administered?	CoGAT - 2nd and 9th grades OSAS (KA & SBACK) - K, 3rd-8th, and 11th
How is the screener used in the identification process (i.e. what percentile threshold, if any, is used to initiate the eligibility process; and how are percentiles used to promote, rather than extinguish, eligibility)?	Universal screeners are one way into the process. They are also used in the case study portion of the identification process. We do not have thresholds, but rather consider students' scores as evidence FOR eligibility, not against.

C. Portability of TAG Identification

Key Questions	District Policy and Practices

Does your district accept TAG identification from other states?	Yes
Do local norms influence the decision to honor identification from other districts and states?	No

D. Teacher’s Knowledge of TAG Students in Class

Key Questions	District Procedure
What procedures are in place to ensure classroom teachers K – 12 know who the TAG identified students are in their classrooms?	LCSD currently uses LBL’s Student Information System. Beginning in the 2023-2024 school year, LCSD will move to Synergy. There is a feature in both systems that allows us to mark students who are identified as TAG. This appears in the teacher’s view of their student information page. Additionally, as part of our August Inservice ALL Staff Training each year, teachers will be shown or reminded of this feature. Our District TAG Coordinator or a member of the TAG Team will reach out to teachers with TAG identified students in the fall to make sure that they know how to access and use the information in the district's system.
What procedures are in place to ensure classroom teachers K – 12 know where they can get support if needed specific to the TAG services the district offers?	LCSD provides PD during our August Inservice schedule each year for review of the TAG Process and explanation of the TAG services offered in our district. Our District TAG Coordinator also sends out regular communication to all staff reminding them of upcoming TAG work and events - i.e. time to review our Gifted Profiles for all students in your classes at each academic quarter.
How do teachers determine rate and level needs for students in their classrooms?	Our district uses progress monitoring through EasyCBM (K-6th) and STAR (7th-12th) to determine rate and level in English and Math.

E. Instructional Plans for TAG Students

Key Questions	District Procedure
Are Personal Education Plans (PEPs) required or optional? At which grade levels are PEPs required?	K-6th grade - required 7th-12th grade - may be required if Instructional Plan is not meeting specific needs of student(s)

Key Questions	District Procedure
	A copy of our PEP can be found HERE or requested from our District TAG Coordinator (contact information provided on page 33).
Are Instructional Plans required or optional? Which courses are required to have Instructional Plans?	Instructional Plans (IP) are required for all 7th-12th grade courses. A copy of our IP can be found HERE or requested from our District TAG Coordinator (contact information provided on page 33).
How are families notified regarding the opportunity to discuss the PEP or IP designed for their student’s learning?	We invite all students (and their parents) who are currently identified as TAG to meet with our TAG coordinator at the beginning of each school year (August- September). The TAG coordinator, staff (for elementary), student, and parents/guardians review the most recent PEPs/IPs. Student and parent/guardian input is used to make changes to PEPs. IPs are reviewed and classes that may need additional support are identified. As the first term progresses, our TAG Coordinator will follow up with students and classes where additional support may be necessary. Support will be given to classroom teachers to meet those needs. An ongoing invitation is offered for students or parents/guardians to reach out at any time if either are feeling the students needs or plan are not being met or honored. A mid-year meeting invitation is also sent to all families. Additionally, our TAG Coordinator and TAG Team members are available during conferences to support TAG students and their families.

Moment-by-moment evidence of student learning and thinking is used to inform and adjust teaching and learning. Descriptive feedback, established success criteria, and clear learning goals are essential.
Independent Learning Contracts	An agreement between student and teacher that outlines individual learning opportunities and outcomes for the student. This strategy is commonly used when a student has demonstrated mastery of a unit that is currently being taught (i.e. student has already read the novel that is being taught in a particular grade level)

Kaplan's Icons of Depth and Complexity	Icons/tools used to provide a visual prompt that promotes thinking from various perspectives, designed to achieve in-depth learning opportunities. Often used as a schoolwide program where all teachers, classroom support staff, and students are taught how to interact with and use the icons.
