4th Grade Board Presentations to the Board of Trustees
April, 2023

- Lockers: This proposal is advocating for lockers for our school. Currently, our 3rd and 4th grade students have open cubbies and coat hooks outside of the classroom to store needed items such as gym shoes, hats, gloves, library books, and more. While we have had items taken from student cubbies or backpacks from time to time, primarily items that would be considered toys, we highly encourage students to keep toys and other items not appropriate for school at home. Our 4th grade students would enjoy having lockers. However, this would be an expensive storage feature to replace our current student cubbies. To promote increased organization of student belongings, teachers can teach students the expectations for storing their supplies in their cubbies.
- Longer Recess: This proposal seeks to increase recess time for 4th grade students. This idea is not feasible due to the Montana Accreditation requirements. Our fourth graders are required to have 1,080 instructional hours per year. Our current start and end times with our current recess time meet the required instructional minutes with a very slight overage. However, we believe student activity and movement are very important for students' learning, and all 3rd and 4th graders have PE everyday as a way to provide required instructional minutes and have additional physical movement.
- Clubs: This proposal is advocating for the development clubs for students. To implement student clubs, we would need to identify staff who would be interested and available to host interest-based club meetings. The essay proposed having multiple student clubs that could also require the need of multiple hosting staff members. To implement clubs at East, we would need to survey student interests and identify costs associated with potential stipends and instructional materials if needed. This project would require significant coordination, planning, and funding that is currently unknown.
- More Sports: This proposal is advocating for more sports other than football. Evergreen School District currently offers many sports students can participate in such as volleyball, basketball, football, and cross country. While most of our Evergreen School District sports offerings are for Junior High students, our East Evergreen students are able to participate in cross country each spring. This year, East Evergreen students were also provided an opportunity for girls to join a volunteer-sponsored activity "Girls on the Run" in the fall with the support of a volunteer group. Many students would enjoy the opportunity to participate in other sports opportunities. To implement more sports opportunities at East Evergreen would require coordination, planning, and funding that is currently unknown.
- PeeWee Football Team: This proposal is requesting for the development of a PeeWee tackle football team. The Junior High offers football as an extracurricular sport, and Evergreen students can begin to participate in extracurricular sports at the Junior High. Implementing a PeeWee tackle football team at East Evergreen Elementary would require coordination, planning, and funding that is currently unknown.
- Longer School Days: The proposal is a request for additional daily instructional time and a four day school week. Next year, our master District calendar will provide weekly early release days, providing a 4 ½ day week for students. However, the daily arrival time and dismissal time will remain the same with exception of our early release Wednesdays. The possibility of implementing this proposal would require modifications to the District school calendar, additional research and stakeholder input, and Board of Trustees approval.
- Workout Room: This proposal is requesting a workout room for East Evergreen Elementary students. This proposal would require purchasing workout equipment and a permanent space for instructional use outside of the gym/cafeteria area. At this time, our 3rd and 4th grade students participate in PE each day to provide daily physical activity outside of recess time. While adding workout equipment to our physical education program would be exciting, it would be very costly to purchase enough equipment for an entire class to use as well as challenging to identify a permanent location for a workout room in the building.
- Class Pets: This proposal suggests teachers should have class pets. At East Evergreen Elementary, we have a couple teachers who currently have class pets, and encouraging students to care for a class pet can have benefits. However, we have students and staff with allergies, and we may have staff and students who are afraid of animals. The safety of our staff and students is a priority, and allergies and fears are things teachers need to consider prior to having a class pet. If teachers choose to have a class pet, they are required to care for the pet entirely: during weekends, holiday breaks, summer breaks, cleaning the habitat, and providing food and water. In the end, teachers can have class pets with prior approval from the building principal.
- Band Class: This proposal is advocating for students to have access to instruments in music class. Students at East Evergreen have music class every third day of school. During music, students learn foundational skills in music such as rhythm, beat, tempo, singing, and more. Our music classroom has many instruments, such as xylophones, boomwhackers, recorders, triangles, bells, and more, which the music teacher can utilize to teach the varying music skills and concepts. As we mentor a new music teacher for the 2023-2024 school year, we will ensure the teacher is familiar with the musical instruments and equipment available to support the teaching and learning cycles for the general music education classroom.

8th Grade Board Presentations to the Board of Trustees
April, 2023

- A Goal in One: This presentation wanted new soccer nets and for the goal posts to be painted. We now have new nets and are working on getting volunteers to help us paint the posts and install the new nets. We have also purchased some soccer balls for the playground to be utilized with the nets.
- Kits and Wolverines: This presentation wanted us to quarterly have the fourth graders come to the Junior High and buddy with the 8th graders in a mentorship program. After collaborating with Mrs. Odegard, we believe this is a great opportunity for our students at both schools. Elementary students will feel more at ease to come to the Junior High as they transition over, and Junior High students will gain leadership opportunities. We have not determined the exact details, but we have discussed that students maybe should go both to the Elementary (their old stomping grounds) and to the Junior High (for a better transition).
- Computation Counters: This presentation requested new whiteboard tables/desks for Mr. Aiken's math classes. We have purchased these desks, and they are waiting to be placed in the classroom this fall.
- Drama kings and Queens: This presentation wanted us to establish a scholarship fund for students to attend theater camps. Although I think this is an amazing idea, I do not think if established it could be limited just to theater. The school does not have an avenue for funding this but would love to see us offer scholarships to students for summer camps with some very clear parameters for eligibility that included work ethic and attendance.
- Checkmate: This presentation wanted to create a chess club. We have purchased chess, checkers, and cribbage boards to start a club. We are partnering with Hope Church to get volunteers to help run this club on a weekly basis.
- The Green Room: This presentation wanted to start a garden club. We have found the funding to buy the initial items needed and have begun purchasing them. We will build some grow tables with wheels this summer to utilize once plants/seeds are planted. We have purchased grow lights and will purchase potting soil and pots at the end of the growing season this fall to use. We are working with Hope Church to find volunteers to help with this club.
- Personalized PE: This presentation requested a change in elective offerings for students in order to include a fitness conditioning class for students who are extremely motivated in the area of physical fitness/education. We have added one of these classes to our master schedule for 2023-2024 at both the 5th/6th grade level and the 7th/8th grade level.
- Saved by the Bell: This presentation requested that we modify the bell system to include a warning bell, noting to students that they are almost late. We are going to add music to the system to play the last 30 seconds, warning students they are almost tardy. We are searching for the perfect music to warn kids at this time and will implement in the fall bell schedule.
- Mathcounts: This presentation asked for a Mathcounts club. In the past, we have had an after school time and an elective class. Although having a club makes perfect sense from a standpoint of kids gaining skills (not to mention being more competitive), at this time we do not have the funding to support this activity. In addition, our Mathcounts coach has many obligations after school that would conflict with offering this. On a brighter note, we have added into our master schedule an advanced 8th grade class for math to support advanced 7th graders. We already offer an advanced 8th grade math class.

BOARD SELF-ASSESSMENT

BOARD MEETINGS 2022-2023

The school board experience is a group experience and a group responsibility. This group experience is most successful when expectations are clearly defined and agreed to by all parties. One way a board can promote clarity of purpose is by engaging in regularly scheduled self-evaluation processes.

The purpose of this survey is to focus on key responsibilities, relationships, and outcomes-and to foster an environment of excellence. Only a commitment on the part of board and staff members to strengthen the capacity for group excellence can overcome the complex challenges facing many school boards today.

Please take a few moments to read the following statements. How accurately do they describe your board? Answer on a scale of one to six, with one being equal to "not at all like us" and six being equal to "very much like us."

Direction Setting

6 5 4 3 2 1

AVERAGE SCORE: 5.3

We participate in meetings where the majority of the agenda and board time is focused on issues of direction setting, policy, and strategy.

6 5 4 3 2 1

Montana Behavioral Initiative (MBI) / Evergreen Behavioral Initiative (EBI)

Positive Behavioral Intervention and Supports (PBIS)

PBIS is an approach for assisting personnel in adopting and organizing evidence based behavioral interventions into an integrated continuum that enhances social competences and academic achievement.

Target Population: District-wide for all students. Each school within the district has a committee (MBI/EBI) that uses PBIS, as an avenue to enhance the capacity of our schools to educate all students, especially those with challenging behaviors, by establishing a continuum of positive systems and practices.

Program Design: There are four key elements of PBIS

1. Understand that behavior is learned and influenced by environmental factors and can be changed.
2. Recognize and stress the importance of assessment information (data), such as functional behavior analysis to factor out behavior triggers and allows the school to arrange the environment to reinforce positive behavior and extinguish problem behavior.
3. Pay attention to social values by providing learning opportunities that emphasize options that are available to students, peers, and families; thus providing a social context to support positive, comprehensive, durable, and relevant change.
4. Provide a team based systematic approach for problem solving that focuses on prevention based practices.

Current Practices: The Evergreen School district has several components that support the key elements.

Title I

Target Population: School-wide for all students, with an emphasis on those students who did not meet or who are in danger of not meeting expectations on the aimswebPlus assessment or on the State Smarter Balanced Assessment taken in the spring of each year.

Funding: Federal Title I Funds

Program Design: The School-wide Title I program is aligned with the School Improvement Plan which aligns with District Goals. The goals of the School Improvement Plan support the school-wide program with student achievement, analysis and allocation of resources, and improving climate and culture. The School-wide Title I program focuses on mathematics and reading. Students receive additional support in those areas if they do not meet expectations on district assessments. Students' progress is reported on periodic aimswebPlus assessments, on report cards every nine weeks, and through monitoring throughout the quarter. Teachers have common planning time which allows them to meet and discuss best practices as well as student progress. The District has two instructional coaches to support curriculum, instruction, and assessment.

Enrollment: Every student in the District is eligible to participate in the School-wide Title I program.

Course Instruction: Course instruction is driven by assessments. Both formal and informal assessments are given, and results are used to plan for instruction; teachers assess students' entry level skills and then plan coursework to meet areas of needed growth. A variety of teaching strategies are used to meet students' visual and auditory learning styles as well. Daily class structure typically begins with whole group instruction and moves to guided and independent practice opportunities for students. Technology is used to enhance students' achievement as well. Supplemental curricular materials are available to support the acquisition of targeted skills.

Overall Assessment: aimswebPlus reading and math assessments are given three times per year. Smarter Balanced Assessment is given in the spring of the year in 3rd through 8th grades. Growth evident during the administration of these assessments will determine success.

Technology: The District provides students with updated technology. Students have access to computers, Chromebooks, and iPads. Buildings have wireless connections to the internet. Students in grades K-8 have one-to-one Chromebooks.

Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS)

Target Population: Students who are in need of additional support from the MTSS model in order to be successful within the regular education classroom.

Program Design: Each school program follows a strict adherence to outlined protocols for student evaluation, placement, and program outline. However, the process for all students begins with the Pyramid of Interventions that can be utilized with any student that is having difficulty in the classroom. Tiers I and II of the Pyramid of Interventions are designed to provide assistance to teachers within a short time period of identifying a concern. The Pyramid is divided into three tiers: Tier I, Tier II, and Tier III. Strategies must be documented to show a student's progress within each of these tiers. Tier I includes Standards Based Classroom Instruction (i.e. differentiation of instruction, parent/teacher conferences, and implementation of accommodations). Tier II moves into a more extensive intervention that encompasses additional time within the school day for intensive focus on the student's area of difficulty (either academics or behavior). Within the Tier II intervention, skill gaps are addressed through the re-teaching of previous skills taught, and new skills are pre-taught before being introduced in the regular classroom. Tier II interventions are always in addition to core content classes. Tier III provides detailed interventions that supplement the core content class (either academics or behavior).

Enrollment: Any student who has been identified as struggling to be successful with academics or behavior in the classroom aligned to school MTSS protocols.

File Review: Teachers are expected to analyze diagnostic, formative, and summative data to determine student intervention needs and to identify MTSS status. Teachers then bring student data to a scheduled Problem Solving Team Meeting to review student progress or lack thereof. Once all Tier II interventions have been exhausted, teachers may bring student data along with all Tier I and Tier II interventions to the MTSS lead and the MTSS Problem Solving Team for guidance and support determining Tier III interventions, goals, and progress monitoring tools. This review process continues regularly to review all MTSS student placements, including the exiting or movement through the Tiers of Intervention. Teachers are responsible for documenting goals, interventions, progress monitoring, and meetings within a student's digital MTSS folder.

PROFILE DATA
Process Data
Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

Target Population: Students who are eligible for services and specially designed instruction as students meeting eligibility criteria, which identify an educational disability or disabilities as defined by federal and state guidelines affiliated with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

Program Design: The district provides appropriate services at each school site. The services are based on the identified individual educational needs of students with disabilities, which are determined by a multidisciplinary evaluation team. Access to and participation in the least restrictive educational environment are considered when determining appropriate instruction and services by an individual education plan team including the parents and school staff. In addition, the district is the host for two regional special education programs: 1) a regional special education preschool that serves children with disabilities ages 3-5 and 2) the Flathead Crossroads Program, serving students in grades K through 8 with disabilities resulting in behavior challenges that support the need for a more restrictive placement than the student's school of residence. Other districts participating in regional programs enter into an Interlocal Agreement in order to access services. Each school program follows IDEA requirements for student evaluation, placement, and services. However, the process for many students begins with the Multi-Tiered System of Support that can be utilized with any student who is having difficulty in the classroom. Special services personnel seek to engage in practices that minimize possible segregation of students with disabilities through inclusive services and instruction such as co-teaching.

Identification: Any student may be referred and determined eligible for school-based special education services ages 3-21 as part of Child Find requirements. This process requires that a student meet eligibility criteria for special education as a student with one or more of 14 federally defined educational disabilities. Eligibility determination also considers if special education and related services are necessary in order for the student to benefit from his or her educational program.

File Review: Staff report progress on measurable goals identified in the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) process on a quarterly basis. The individual goals developed for each individual student are based on present levels of academic and adaptive functional performance, which consider the common standards or expectations of students the same age, measurements of the student's skills, and necessary instruction and service recommendations for the student to continue to benefit from his or her educational experience. The IEP is reviewed at least annually, but the team may meet at any time if there is a concern regarding student progress or service delivery. General education teachers and school personnel with a need to know have access to the IEP in order to support students' full participation in the school program.

Student Services and Out-of-District Enrollment
(revised and approved February 7, 2024)

The Evergreen School District will maintain compliance with accreditation standards under Title 10, Chapter 55 of the Montana Administrative Rules and will ensure compliance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act by providing appropriate programming for eligible students in the least restrictive environment. Accordingly, the trustees have determined that enrolling out-of-district students where there are no exceptional circumstances at the request of a parent or guardian that would result in exceeding accreditation limits for classrooms in early literacy, kindergarten, and grades 1-8 negatively impacts the quality of education for all students within the district. In our unwavering commitment to provide quality education and individualized attention to all students, the Evergreen School District is dedicated to maintaining a balance between enrollment capacity and instructional quality. To this end, the district has determined its optimal enrollment to capacity ratio to be 85%. Thus, we have formulated the following procedures to address out-of-district enrollment applications.

General Education Enrollment

1. General education enrollment applications will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis once enrollment reaches or exceeds 85% of the District's capacity for a specific grade level or core curriculum subject as determined by Montana statute for accreditation.
2. Enrollment capacity will be determined based on the District's available resources, staffing levels, and facilities.

Special Education Enrollment

Additionally, the enrollment of out-of-district students where there are no exceptional circumstances at the request of a parent or guardian in the following special education services and programs maintained by the District that would result in exceeding the following capacities would negatively impact the district's ability to serve students in those programs. To ensure that the District will be able to continue to positively impact student learning for enrolled students, the district will limit the approval of out-of-district student applications where there are no exceptional circumstances according to service and program capacities listed below in order to ensure to ensure sufficient capacity for additional new resident students or out-of-district students with exceptional circumstances who may seek to enroll.

1. For students whose application includes an Individualized Education Plan (IEP) that the Director of Special Services determines requires general special education services, enrollment will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis once caseloads for the respective grade level are at or above 85%. Caseload per special education teacher is 20 students for students with mild to moderate disabilities, 10 students for students with low incidence disabilities, and 55 students for students with speech only disabilities. Case load is defined as the number of students with IEPs for whom a teacher serves as "case manager" and is responsible for writing and implementing the IEP.
2. For students whose application includes an IEP that the Director of Special Services determines requires services of a self-contained classroom to fulfill the IEP's requirements, enrollment will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis once it exceeds 85% of the maximum number of students that can be served and based on severity of student needs as outlined below.

Specialized Student Programs

1. Evergreen Developmental Preschool: This program serves the needs of preschool children with identified educational disabilities through IDEA and who are ages 3 to 5 years of age. Eligible students are provided with instruction and experiences consistent with best practices regarding serving young children, which include family outreach and activities, as well as related services therapy integrated into the school program. Additional related services may be required based upon individual student needs as identified through evaluation and the IEP and may include speech language therapy, occupational therapy, physical therapy, paraprofessional staff, or health care related staff to provide appropriate services. In some individual circumstances, as determined by an IEP, children may access the Evergreen early kindergarten program as the most appropriate placement.

2. Evergreen Early Kindergarten: This program serves the needs of four year old children with exceptional circumstances or the need for targeted interventions. Related services may include speech language therapy, occupational therapy, physical therapy, paraprofessional staff, or health care related staff to provide appropriate services.
3. Evergreen Crossroads Program: This program serves the needs of students in K-8th grades who are identified through IDEA as students with educational disabilities. In addition, students are determined to demonstrate significant behavior challenges, have learning characteristics indicating the student is likely to respond to a cognitive behavioral intervention, and that the student requires placement in a day treatment or specialized school to address the student's needs. Additional related services may be required based upon individual student needs and may include speech language therapy, occupational therapy, physical therapy, additional paraprofessional staff, or health care related staff services. In some individual circumstances, as determined by an IEP, children may access East Evergreen Elementary School or Evergreen Junior High School for partial day or for IEP-identified participation placements. Consultation and observation of students demonstrating severe dysregulation and possible consideration for placement in Crossroads are available with parent consent to participating districts. Interlocal agreements are created with Flathead Valley school district partners. There is a student enrollment cap of 50. However, the numbers of students participating are based on student needs and fluctuate throughout the school year, as students may demonstrate the need for higher levels of care, may enter the setting due to relocation, or may transition to neighborhood schools. Interlocal agreements are created with Flathead Valley school district partners.
4. East Evergreen Skill Builders Class: This program serves the developmental needs of students in K-4th grades who meet eligibility requirements as a student with a disability. Students participating in the program require direct care support to address personal needs. Instructional focus is tied to developing independence and functional skills in the developmental realms (social/emotional, cognitive/pre-academic, physical, speech/language/communication, and adaptive). Related services staff such as speech pathologist occupational therapist, physical therapist, addition paraprofessional, or other health care related staff who are determined necessary to address individual student needs will be employed. Program model goals are to integrate therapy activities into classroom activities to the maximum extent appropriate to create seamless and generalized skill development. State alternative assessment is generally determined to be the most appropriate assessment by the IEP team due to the significance of individual student learning challenges. Students will require additional assigned staffing to participate in general education activities due to personal care needs. The program cap will be eight (8) students. Out-of-district students may be considered for attendance if program capacity has not been reached.
5. Evergreen Junior High Foundations Class: This program serves students in 5th-8th grades who meet eligibility requirements as a student with a disability. Students participating require support and instruction in aspects of daily living such as toileting and hygiene, meal preparation, and community access. Foundational skills that will build independence in these areas will serve as the basis of instructional focus. Related services staff such as a speech pathologist, occupational therapist, physical therapist, paraprofessional, or other health care related staff who are determined necessary to address individual student needs. Therapeutic services will be integrated into classroom activities to the maximum extent appropriate. Students may need additional staffing support to access general education environments due to safety or health concerns. Students in the program will typically participate in state alternative assessment due to the severity of their learning challenges. The program cap will be eight (8) students. Out-of-district students may be considered for attendance if program capacity has not been reached.

Introduction

AdvancED Performance Accreditation and the Engagement Review

Accreditation is pivotal to leveraging education quality and continuous improvement. Using a set of rigorous research based standards, the accreditation process examines the whole institution—the program, the cultural context and the community of stakeholders—to determine how well the parts work together to meet the needs of learners. Through the AdvancED Accreditation Process, highly skilled and trained Engagement Review Teams gather first-hand evidence and information pertinent to evaluating an institution’s performance against the research-based AdvancED Performance Standards. Using these Standards, Engagement Review Teams assess the quality of learning environments to gain valuable insights and target improvements in teaching and learning. AdvancED provides Standards that are tailored for all education providers so that the benefits of accreditation are universal across the education community.

Through a comprehensive review of evidence and information, our experts gain a broad understanding of institution quality. Using the Standards, the review team provides valuable feedback to institutions that helps to focus and guide each institution’s improvement journey. Valuable evidence and information from other stakeholders, including students, also is obtained through interviews, surveys and additional activities.

As a part of the Engagement Review, stakeholders were interviewed by members of the Engagement Review Team to gain their perspectives on topics relevant to the institution's learning environment and organizational effectiveness. The feedback gained through the stakeholder interviews was considered with other evidences and data to support the findings of the Engagement Review. The following chart depicts the numbers of persons interviewed representative of various stakeholder groups.

Stakeholder Groups	Number
Board Members	5
Superintendents	1
Administrators	10
Instructional Staff	25
Support Staff	7
Students	33
Parents/Community/Business Leaders	13
Total	94

Once all of the information is compiled and reviewed, the team develops the Engagement Review Report and presents preliminary results to the institution. Results from the Engagement Review are reported in four ratings represented by colors. These ratings provide guidance and insight into an institution's continuous improvement efforts as described below:

Color	Rating	Description
Red	Needs Improvement	Identifies key areas that need more focused improvement efforts
Yellow	Emerging	Represents areas to enhance and extend current improvement efforts
Green	Meets Expectations	Pinpoints quality practices that meet the Standards

Color	Rating	Description
Blue	Exceeds Expectations	Demonstrates noteworthy practices producing clear results that exceed expectations

AdvancED Continuous Improvement System

The AdvancED Continuous Improvement System (CIS) provides a systemic fully integrated solution to help institutions map out and navigate a successful improvement journey. In the same manner that educators are expected to understand the unique needs of every learner and tailor the education experience to drive student success, every institution must be empowered to map out and embrace their unique improvement journey. AdvancED expects institutions to use the results and the analysis of data from various interwoven components for the implementation of improvement actions to drive education quality and improved student outcomes. While each improvement journey is unique, the journey is driven by key actions. AdvancED identifies three important components of a continuous improvement process and provides feedback on the components of the journey using a rubric that identifies the three areas to guide the improvement journey. The areas are as follows:

Commitment to Continuous Improvement	Rating
The institution has collected sufficient and quality data to identify school improvement needs.	Exceeds Expectations
Implications from the analysis of data have been identified and used for the development of key strategic goals.	Meets Expectations
The institution demonstrates the capacity to implement their continuous improvement journey.	Exceeds Expectations

Continuous Improvement Journey Narrative

The Engagement Review Team reviewed numerous sources of evidence that support the system's path of growth in a continuous improvement process. Interviews with representatives from all stakeholder groups, a review of written materials such as the system's Continuous Improvement Plan, observation of classroom activities and organizational practices at both the system and school levels revealed that the system has established a systematic, systemic process to enrich continuous improvement. As one staff member stated, "Our Plan is more than a collection of pages; it's a living, breathing document that we use daily." During an overview presentation, the superintendent provided a comprehensive description of the development and implementation of the strategic planning process. The system provided copies of the system's Plans for the past five years which reflected participation by stakeholders who represented system personnel as well as participants from the broader school community such as parents and community leaders. Although system staff expressed the need to achieve stronger student achievement, gradual improvement in organizational procedures and instructional focus was evident.

The system has systematically moved forward in its continuous improvement journey through development, implementation and monitoring of progress toward three target areas of the Plan. The system illustrates the continuous improvement process with a triangular shape. Foundation components of the Plan at the base of the triangle were the system's vision, mission, and beliefs. The next level in the triangle featured arrows that connected the process components of improvement from profile to plan to results and back to profile, a clear and systematic process of continuous improvement.

Review of the initial and current Plans provided evidence that the system gathered and analyzed quality data to identify areas for improvement. The system has progressed from an initial plan developed in 2013-14 to a current plan in 2017-18 that has systematically addressed goals in the three areas of improving student achievement and learning, systematic analysis and allocation of resources, and improving climate and culture. From interviews and the superintendent's overview presentation, the team confirmed that members of the governing board participated in and monitored the planning process while stakeholders were involved in guiding the system's continuous improvement planning. Stakeholders included the superintendent, school and system level administrators, teachers, community leaders, parents, and staff members in non-certified positions. Interview responses and meeting minutes reflected participation by system personnel in regularly scheduled meetings to monitor progress toward achieving goals in the three target areas of the Plan. Additionally, members of the governing board participated in work sessions prior to every official board meeting to monitor system progress toward continuous improvement. The superintendent indicated that discussion during meetings that involved system personnel center around Plan target areas and current benchmarks. Supported by written evidence, interviews and school visits, the team determined that system stakeholders participated in a collaborative and strategic process to achieve Plan goals and move forward in a continuous improvement journey.

AdvancED Standards Diagnostic Results

The AdvancED Performance Standards Diagnostic is used by the Engagement Review Team to evaluate the institution’s effectiveness based on AdvancED’s Performance Standards. The diagnostic consists of three components built around each of the three Domains: Leadership Capacity, Learning Capacity and Resource Capacity. Point values are established within the diagnostic and a percentage of the points earned by the institution for each Standard is calculated from the point values for each Standard. Results are reported within four ranges identified by the colors representing Needs Improvement (Red), Emerging (Yellow), Meets Expectations (Green), and Exceeds Expectations (Blue). The results for the three Domains are presented in the tables that follow.

Leadership Capacity Domain

The capacity of leadership to ensure an institution’s progress toward its stated objectives is an essential element of organizational effectiveness. An institution’s leadership capacity includes the fidelity and commitment to its purpose and direction, the effectiveness of governance and leadership to enable the institution to realize its stated objectives, the ability to engage and involve stakeholders in meaningful and productive ways, and the capacity to implement strategies that improve learner and educator performance.

eleot® Narrative

The Engagement Review Team conducted 38 classroom observations in two schools, and in classrooms associated with a Crossroads Program that supports students from Evergreen School District 50 and neighboring systems, using the eleot® classroom observation tool on Tuesday of the visit. The system's overall average score was 2.92 on a four-point scale.

The Supportive Learning Environment received the highest average rating of 3.38. Students gave evidence of a supportive relationship with their teachers that correlated with student interview poll responses indicating that "The teacher from whom I learn the most cares about me." The Well-Managed Learning Environment was the second highest rated environment with an average rating of 3.30. Students worked cooperatively together in both small and large groups. Moreover, students were observed transitioning smoothly from one activity to another. Ranking third was the Equitable Learning Environment with a 3.01 average rating. Students had equal access to participate in classroom activities and discussions. The team saw instances in which rules were fairly and consistently applied. The Active Learning Environment ranked fourth, receiving an average rating of 2.95. Team members observed students actively engaged in learning activities during group work, in independent settings, and in teacher directed lessons. The next highest rated area was the High Expectations Learning Environment with an average rating of 2.89. However, the team observed few instances in which students “were able to describe high quality work,” a criteria that received a rating of 2.61, the lowest rated criteria in this learning environment. The Progress Monitoring and Feedback Learning Environment was the next highest environment with an average rating of 2.71. When talking with parents, the team learned that grading and reporting procedures were clearly communicated in a timely manner across the system. The Digital Learning Environment ranked seventh with an average rating of 1.98. Although the Digital Learning Environment received the lowest rating of the seven learning environments, the team learned that the system has provided either iPads or Chromebooks in a 1:1 ratio for students. Moreover, teachers were observed using SmartBoards to aid instruction and students were observed using digital tools to evaluate information and create original works for learning.

The eleot data confirmed statements shared during interview polls with various stakeholder groups and validated the supportive environment of the school and community working together as “Ever Giving, Ever Growing, Evergreen” described during interviews. Students were provided supportive and well-managed learning environments by teachers who demonstrated genuine concern for student success and well-being. During observations, the team noted that students followed classroom routines, transitioned smoothly, and interacted respectfully with teachers and their peers. Team members saw evidence that students were provided support to understand lesson content. Moreover, team members observed numerous instances in which students were actively engaged in learning activities. Although not the lowest rated, the environment that was a priority area for further improvement by system leadership was the High Expectations Learning Environment with a focus on designing and implementing a systemic process to align expectations with best practices to promote increased student achievement for K-8 classrooms across the system.

Findings

The chart below provides an overview of the institution ratings across the three Domains.

Rating	Number of Standards
Needs Improvement	1
Emerging	4
Meets Expectations	15
Exceeds Expectations	11

Powerful Practices

Powerful Practices reflect noteworthy observations and actions that have yielded clear results in student achievement or organizational effectiveness and are actions that exceed what is typically observed or expected in an institution.

Powerful Practice #1

The governing body; in conjunction with the superintendent, the administrative staff, building leadership, and teacher leadership; functions with quality skill and authority to establish effective policies and long-range planning to support system effectiveness. (Standards: 1.4, 1.5, 1.11)

Primary Standard: 1.4

Evidence: System policies included a code of ethics and defined roles and responsibilities for system staff. Governing board meeting minutes and interviews with board members and system staff revealed that the governing board functioned cohesively to ensure system effectiveness. Observations of school operations confirmed that the Board provided support and autonomy to system leadership.

Powerful Practice #2:

The system staff and governing board facilitated a collaborative process involving community stakeholders to develop and maintain a clear focus on improving student learning and professional practice. (Standards: 1.1, 1.3)

Primary Standard: 1.1

Evidence: The superintendent's overview presentation included evidence of a structured and collaborative process for development of the system's purpose and beliefs about teaching and learning. A review of documents gave evidence of regularly scheduled meetings by the system leadership team as well as building level leadership teams. During interviews with representatives from all stakeholder groups, the team confirmed "the reflective nature of the district" and involvement in a systematic process of continuous improvement.

Powerful Practice #3:

System leaders strategically implement long-term planning, procedures and fiscal resources in alignment with identified needs and priorities to improve students' performance and organizational effectiveness with the support of stakeholder and committee involvement. (Standards: 3.7, 3.8, 1.7)

Primary Standard: 3.7

Evidence: The system's Continuous Improvement Plan provided evidence of the development of a five-year strategic plan aligning system resources with identified needs. During interviews, the governing board described future goals and plans in support of the system's purpose and direction. Stakeholder survey responses provided evidence that system resources are equitably distributed and responsibly managed to address current and future needs and priorities. A staff member stated, "Despite fiscal cut backs and limited budgets, we have all that we need and much of what we want."

Opportunities for Improvement

Opportunities for Improvement are those actions that will guide and direct institutions to specific areas that are worthy of additional attention.

Opportunity for Improvement #1

Create a systemic learning culture to foster self-reflective education and stimulate inquiry. (Standard: 2.2)

Primary Standard: 2.2

Evidence: Results of eleot observations revealed that the lowest rating of the Active Learning Environment was “Learners collaborate with their peers to accomplish/complete projects, activities, tasks and/or assignments.” Team members observed more teacher-directed assignments and fewer project-based activities. While both whole and small group instruction occurred in most of the 38 classroom observations, formal differentiation of instruction was observed in a limited number of classrooms.

Opportunity for Improvement #2:

Develop and implement a process with all invested stakeholders to assess the effectiveness of programs and ensure alignment to standards and best practices promoting increased student achievement. (Standards: 2.6, 2.12)

Primary Standard: 2.12

Evidence: Teacher interview polls and conversations, lesson plans, curriculum maps and the superintendent’s overview presentation revealed comprehensive implementation of programs, resources and organizational conditions to improve student learning. These numerous sources of evidence also revealed that systematic evaluation of the effectiveness of programs was not in place.

Improvement Priorities

Improvement priorities are developed to enhance the capacity of the institution to reach a higher level of performance and reflect the areas identified by the Engagement Review Team to have the greatest impact on improving student performance and organizational effectiveness.

Improvement Priority #1

Design and implement coaching and mentoring programs to ensure that all staff members have knowledge and skills to improve student performance and organizational effectiveness. (Standard: 3.3)

Primary Standard: 3.3

Evidence: A review of system materials provided evidence of formal coaching and mentoring programs for the administrative staff. However, opportunities for teachers were limited to Teacher Buddy assignments. During interviews, system personnel verified that formal mentoring and coaching opportunities for all staff needed to be addressed. A review of the system Continuous Improvement Plan revealed that data related to monitoring and evaluation of coaching and mentoring programs were not available.

Accreditation Recommendation and Index of Educational Quality™ (IEQ™)

The Engagement Review Team recommends to the AdvancED Accreditation Commission that the institution earns the distinction of accreditation for a five-year term. AdvancED will review the results of the Engagement Review to make a final determination, including the appropriate next steps for the institution in response to these findings.

AdvancED provides the Index of Education Quality™ (IEQ™) as a holistic measure of overall performance based on a comprehensive set of standards and review criteria. A formative tool for improvement, it identifies areas of success as well as areas in need of focus. The IEQ is comprised of the Standards Diagnostic ratings from the three Domains: 1) Leadership Capacity; 2) Learning Capacity; and 3) Resource Capacity and the results of elite classroom observations. The IEQ results are reported on a scale of 100 to 400 and provide information about how the institution is performing compared to expected criteria.

Conclusion Narrative

The mission of Evergreen School District 50 is “To enable students to become responsible citizens and lifelong learners by ensuring quality instruction in a nurturing environment.” Interview responses recorded by team members reflected that all stakeholder groups promoted this common mission. The mission was posted in common areas throughout the system and was included on the first page of the system’s Continuous Improvement Plan (Plan) guiding the work of system personnel and community stakeholders as the system systematically reviewed the previous year’s Plan to update data and draft goals to address current needs of the system.

The Engagement Review Team noted five themes supportive of student success and organizational effectiveness for Evergreen School District 50. Team members observed and recorded interview evidence of the responsible and effective operation of the governing body. During interviews, representatives of all stakeholder groups praised the collaborative and professional processes adhered to by members of the school board. In addition to complying with policies and regulations, stakeholders said that the board operated as a cohesive unit. A staff member described board meetings as orderly, positive and productive. The staff member said that board members routinely meet in work sessions to “candidly express individual viewpoints and sometimes disagree.” The result was that members of the board resolved differences in work sessions and presented unity to the community during regular meetings. Moreover, the board has modelled the value of quality training and continuous growth through its own behavior and has empowered system leadership to implement an organizational structure to support continual growth for the system and improved student achievement.

A second theme that supports student success was development and implementation of a comprehensive Continuous Improvement Plan. Five years ago, the superintendent and board initiated a collaborative process to define system beliefs about teaching and learning. System leadership involved representatives from all stakeholder groups to gather and analyze data about system demographics, stakeholder perceptions, staff perceptions, staff inventories, process data, and student achievement data. Stakeholders and staff participated in meetings to analyze data and draw conclusions about the future direction of the system. Three goal areas were identified and activities were planned to address improvement in student achievement, systematic analysis and allocation of resources, and climate and culture. System leadership and stakeholders have established a systemic and systematic process for a review and update of the system’s Plan each year. This Plan has become more than goals printed on paper; a system administrator described the Plan as one that “guides the daily organizational and instructional activities of the system.”

A third theme that supports student success was the system's outreach to families. Evergreen School District 50 serves a small geographic area of approximately three square miles. The board has worked collaboratively with numerous outside agencies such as Rotary to support the social and emotional needs of students. System personnel have worked continually with community business partners and community leaders to address a full range of student needs. The team visited a room referred to as the Lounge at Evergreen Junior High School. Community members and system personnel have worked together to develop a space for students to relax and feel special. Students are rewarded with time in this space when they meet goals or deserve special recognition. The most distinctive feature in the Lounge was a large table built to display tiles designed by students. School leadership worked with members of a local church to provide materials and labor to build this table. This project was one among many described by parents as ways in which the system strives to reach out to families and support development of the whole child.

A fourth theme identified by team members that supports student success was the positive relationship between students and staff. During interviews, students identified teachers as the greatest strength of the system. Another telling piece of evidence that supported this theme as a strength of the system was students' responses to poll interviews. Students frequently selected "cares about me" as an appropriate ending to the statement, "The teacher from whom I learn the most." While visiting in schools and classrooms, team members also observed numerous instances in which teachers interacted with students in a warm and caring positive manner.

Finally, a fifth theme that supports student success and organizational effectiveness was the strides made by system personnel in recent years to gather and analyze data. The Plan included demographic, perception, process, and student achievement data that was systematically updated and analyzed. System personnel employed systematic processes to gather and analyze data from numerous sources. Data sources included trend and comparison data from STAR Reading and Math, course passing rates, and Smarter Balanced Assessment/CRT. Strides made in gathering and analyzing data by system personnel in recent years has segued to the current challenge of developing systemic and systematic processes to use data to inform and adjust instruction as appropriate.

Through interviews and a review of evidence, the team acknowledged three challenges of the system. The first challenge noted by the team was that of systematically using data to evaluate the impact of instructional practices and programs, and then implementing changes to increase student achievement and improve conditions that support learning. During interviews, system staff acknowledged that while some growth has occurred, student achievement "needs to improve and isn't where we want it to be." A review of assessment data confirmed that student achievement results were below state averages. In the System Quality Factors report, system staff indicated that the degree to which "system staff implements actions that support teaching, learning and overall learner success" is "mostly embedded."

In conjunction with the challenge of using data to evaluate the impact of instructional practices, a second challenge noted by the team was the need to promote creativity, innovation and problem-solving. During observations, the team observed few instances requiring students to participate in higher order thinking skills activities. While pockets of high expectations were observed, many activities required lower level responses such as knowledge and comprehension without achieving application, evaluation or synthesis. The High Expectations Learning Environment received the third lowest system average rating based on the team's classroom observations.

A third challenge noted by the team was the need to provide coaching and mentoring programs for all staff members. The team found evidence of mentoring programs for system administrators, but mentoring and coaching programs were not available for all staff. The superintendent's overview presentation described assignment of Teacher Buddies and professional development opportunities for new teachers. During interviews, however, system staff described the need for coaching and mentoring programs that increase knowledge and support development of skills to improve student performance and organizational effectiveness for all staff members.

Evergreen School District 50 was supported by stable, effective leadership of the governing board and system leadership. Stakeholders have worked collaboratively to develop and implement a comprehensive Continuous Improvement Plan and to engage in numerous outreach activities for families. The relationship between students and teachers was observed by team members as warm, caring, and strongly positive. Developing a systematic process of using data to inform instruction, promoting a creative and innovative learning culture, and developing coaching and mentoring programs for all staff will serve as a strong basis for future actions and continuous improvement.

The Behavior Code reveals a systematic approach for deciphering causes and patterns of difficult behaviors and how to match them with proven strategies for getting students back on track so they can learn effectively.

The Behavior Code provides the conceptual background for breaking the code of the four most challenging students in the classroom: students with anxiety-related, oppositional, withdrawn and sexualized behaviors. The book provides, in a user-friendly format, a different kind of behavior intervention plan — we call it the FAIR plan — that outlines effective interventions for students demonstrating these challenging behaviors.

Evergreen School District Daily Agenda Postings Expectations and Examples

Daily Agenda Board Postings offer many benefits to students' learning, including helping students know what to expect, transitions, classroom management, student anxiety, and students clearly knowing what they are learning and what they should know and be able to do as a result of that learning.

Daily Agenda Postings should:

- Be based on the day's current lesson.
- Be displayed in an area that is very easy for all students to see the entire lesson/period.
- Be large enough for students to read easily.
- Use standards-based language that is grade-level appropriate.
- Include the following five required components:
 - Date
 - Standard
 - Essential Question (connected to standard)
 - Agenda (connected to standard)
 - Upcoming (connected to standard)

Evergreen School District

Transformational and Personalized Learning

The Evergreen School District in Kalispell, Montana serves approximately 700 students in grades preschool through 8th grade. Our district is comprised of three schools: East Evergreen Elementary School - serving preschool through 4th grade students, Evergreen Junior High School - serving 5th grade through 8th grade students, and Crossroads - serving kindergarten through 8th grade students. We employ 70 certified staff members and 64 classified staff members.

As the third largest K-8 district in the state and one of the largest unincorporated communities in Montana, we are working to meet the individual needs of each student so that he or she is prepared for success in high school and beyond. Due to the high number of students in our district who qualify for free lunch (97% at the elementary school and 81% at the junior high school), 100% of our students are offered free breakfast and free lunch each day through the federal Community Eligibility Provision program.

Over the last several years, we have witnessed a strong need for more personalized learning opportunities for students, particularly as our density of needs continues to increase. During this time, our student population has decreased by approximately 8% while our students identified as eligible for special education services has increased by approximately 3.5% during that same time period. Now more than ever, using the same approach for all students is simply not effective; we must personalize learning for each student if we are going to improve outcomes for these students. As more students come to us with individualized education plans, either formally with an IEP or more informally based on their individual needs, we have found that we must transform our overall instruction and assessment plan in order to better meet those specific student needs. By focusing on intentional and targeted professional learning for teachers, we know that we can transform our instruction and assessment practices to truly personalize learning for each student.

The ultimate goal of our district is to affect student learning and achievement by supporting teachers with instruction and assessment. Through our district's five year improvement plan, we have identified 10 specific areas relating to instruction and assessment as our focus for the next five years. Each area relating to instruction and assessment was chosen based on our district's overall need for common language and expectations around instruction and assessment as well as increased student achievement. As common language and expectations are put in place in our district, we also identified a need for staff members to participate in professional learning and common collaborative planning time as well as to have support in their own content areas to build knowledge, capacity, and individualized plans to better support their students.

Student learning and achievement is affected by our long range plan through personalized learning taking place in each classroom. Staff members have been tasked with reflecting on their own instruction by creating differentiated lessons through multiple strategies and creating effective daily lesson plans that target specific learning strategies in order to increase individual student participation and achievement.

Through consistent and ongoing support of teachers, our goal is that teachers will be better prepared and supported to then truly personalize learning for students. As we focus on ensuring teachers have the necessary knowledge and skills to effectively differentiate and carefully lesson plan for that differentiation, for example, we ensure that students receive a transformational and personalized learning experience. Using their skills honed through professional learning and collaboration, teachers are more effectively implementing personalized learning opportunities through flexible seating, student choice and voice, and effective opportunities for pre-teaching, re-teaching, and re-doing in order to ensure that students learn content standards and are able to apply that knowledge (and not simply have exposure to standards). Further, by providing students with connection and extension classes based on their very specific individual needs identified through our Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) while also allowing fluid, flexible grouping for students to move in and out of classes based on need (and not simply time on task), we are taking steps to truly personalize the learning experience for each student. As we improve personalized learning experiences for students, we are also seeing improvements in students' and teachers' relationships with each other, students' relationships with peers, and teachers' relationships with families, as we continue to build and support a culture and community that values and supports an individual learning path for each student.

Our district has also transitioned special education students into inclusive co-teach classrooms and worked to ensure students' perceptions and suggestions are an active part of our continuous improvement process. Approximately 91% of students with disabilities spend approximately 80% or more of each day in general education; 99% of students with disabilities spend more than 40% of each day in general education; and 100% of students with disabilities have opportunities to be with their typically developing peers each day (Unified Special Olympics Team, shared recesses and specials classes, classroom buddy reading, accompanying the co-teacher for shared lessons). Our growth in reading/English/language arts and math is surpassing the growth of the state, we are above the state in math achievement, and we are closing the achievement gap for vulnerable populations.

What is aimswebPlus?

aimswebPlus is an assessment, reporting, and data management system designed to support universal screening, progress monitoring, and Response to Intervention (RTI). It provides brief, reliable, nationally normed reading and mathematics measures. aimswebPlus uses both timed curriculum-based measures (CBMs) and untimed standards-based measures to assess skills and inform instruction.

Tier Transition Report

The Tier Transition report is a comparative snapshot that tracks student progress and movement across the Fall, Winter, and Spring Benchmarks. You can use the report to evaluate how well students are achieving performance targets in reference to end-of-year performance targets. It can be used to determine if instructional programs are effective.

Instructional tiers are a key component of the Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS). Tiers communicate the instructional intensity that a student needs in order to be successful in a particular academic domain. MTSS typically uses a three-tiered approach. Students in Tier 1 are expected to meet the end of year target by participating in high quality, research based core instruction. Students in Tier 2 may need small-group instruction and additional practice on core content to meet the end of year target. Students in Tier 3 need intensive intervention to build skills and deepen their understanding of learning standards taught in the core instructional program.

The Student Details portion of the report illustrates the students' level of risk for not meeting the district's spring target as well as their possible need for intervention.

Multi-Tiered System of Support and Identifying Academic Concerns

The Tier Transition Report is one of many reports available after the completion of a benchmark assessment. By looking at multiple reports, we are able to begin to analyze the effects of core instruction and interventions for grade levels, individual classes, small groups, and individual students.

Through the Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) process, staff analyze data, hold Problem Solving Team meetings to discuss students' academic needs, create digital Tier 3 or watchlist MTSS folders as needed, and monitor students' progress on specific goals. It is one measure out of several that we use to triangulate data to make instructional decisions for students. We also use a longitudinal spreadsheet to show multiple years of data and to better triangulate student data to make decisions about instructional needs. Below are guidelines from our MTSS process to begin analyzing student data after administering the aimswebPlus benchmark assessments.

★ aimswEBPlus Data: 50th%ile or Below

- Students below the 50th%ile may have skill gaps that can be addressed within core instruction, reteach, and differentiation.

★ aimswEBPlus Data: Between 25th-11th%ile:

- Students at or below the 25th%tile (orange and yellow) will be looked at closely through further data triangulation. If added to the grade level watchlist, progress monitoring will take place according to schedule. Students on the watchlist may be considered for an MTSS folder. Teachers can begin to determine the intervention(s) needed by triangulating the data.

★ aimswEBPlus Data: At or Below the 10th%ile

- Students below the 10th%ile on aimswEBPlus will likely require strategic intervention and a Tier 3 folder (unless triangulation of data provides other information).
- Students with IEP goals in specific academic concern area(s) will not require an MTSS folder (as noted above). Instead, follow IEP goals. If a student with an IEP does not have IEP goals in an academic concern area, then a folder will be created.

As we come to the end of our district's ESSER funded Student Data Support Specialists roles, I want to recognize the work these staff members have done in the last two years. They have supported administrators, staff, students, and families with academic needs and resources. They have met with grade levels and individual teachers to be a problem solving partner for planning core instruction, analyzing data to identify individual skill needs, and planning and implementing intervention groups. They have helped our staff become more confident in data analysis and our students grow in specific skill areas. Their work is so appreciated!

Overview of SMART Goal and SMART Goal Reflection Items

Purpose of SMART Goal:

Each certified staff member creates a personal SMART Goal related to their school's improvement plan for the year. The SMART Goal will include how you are going to improve your skills to impact student success. Complete your SMART Goal from the template within your Professional Learning Google Classroom. Your SMART Goal is due on Friday, October 6, 2023.

Purpose of SMART Goal Reflection:

"Reflection is a basic part of teaching and learning. It aims to make you more aware of your own professional knowledge and action by "challenging assumptions of everyday practice and critically evaluating practitioners" own responses to practice situations (Finlay, 2008)." Cambridge International Teaching and Learning Team

You will complete three(3) reflective activities related to your SMART Goal this school year; one activity for each quarter prior to the dates listed below.

- Quarter 1: November 1, 2023
- Quarter 2: January 19, 2024
- Quarter 3: March 22, 2024

Support for Reflective Practices from Marzano's Book, Becoming a Reflective Teacher:

Teachers can watch video recordings of their lessons as a way to obtain focused feedback on their use of instructional strategies in the classroom.

Self-observation using video recordings is a valuable tool that allows a teacher to compare his or her self-expectations with actual performance in the classroom. Research indicates that video data are most beneficial when a teacher focuses on specific elements of instruction. Rather than trying to examine all aspects of a lesson at once, a teacher can purposefully observe the use of particular strategies to gain insight into which aspects still need improvement and which have the desired effect on students. After a teacher reviews video data, he or she can reflect on the recordings and generate ideas for future improvements (pp. 62–63).

Observing and discussing teaching is an important element to the development of teaching expertise.

One way teachers might interact would be to view videos of other teachers. It is useful to determine what was done well by the teacher and what was not. Discussing the effective strategies demonstrated in a video segment, as well as strategies that could have or should have been employed, make almost any video segment a useful vehicle for observing and discussing teaching (pp. 75–77).

Deliberate practice is easier when feedback is provided by an outside source, like a coach.

Deliberate practice requires a level of metacognition (knowledge about one's own thinking and performance) that can be difficult to achieve. Therefore, a coach can be very helpful in providing feedback and direction to someone working to develop expertise. A coach is usually someone whose relationship with the individual allows them to give honest and unbiased assessments of the individual's performance and whose knowledge in the field allows them to choose or design practice activities that will be most effective at helping the subject move to higher and higher levels of skill (p. 8).

Professional Learning Team

The Professional Learning Team meets monthly to collaborate on both Professional Learning and Pupil-Instruction Related (PIR) activities taking place within the district. This team represents specific grade levels and content areas in our district, including certified, classified, special education, specialists, and administration. Every five years, our district creates a District Strategic Plan for continuous improvement with yearly, targeted professional learning topics related to instruction and assessment. Each month, staff volunteer to collaborate with building instructional coaches to lead our district professional learning on the yearly topic stated in the District's Strategic Plan.

EVERGREEN SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 50 PLAN

East Evergreen Elementary School Indian Education for All (IEFA)

Professional Education Services & Travel Out of District:

Three meetings with grade level representatives to plan IEFA activities

Accountability:

Teachers are asked to document two IEFA lessons that will be integrated into their curriculum during the year. The documentation includes the Essential Understanding.

All grade levels and the librarian will provide a read aloud on American Indian Heritage Day providing the opportunity to discuss the importance of American Indians in Montana.

- Fourth grade would like the opportunity to have Cliff Thorsen teach staff at East Evergreen School how to set up the tipi. The goal is to provide a yearly opportunity for fourth grade students to learn how to set up the tipi and its cultural significance. Kindergarten - third grade students would benefit from the experience by having an activity associated with the tipi. These activities may include read-alouds and music.
- Third grade will integrate the importance of Native American artifacts into their field trip to Central School Museum. If possible, they would like the funds to bring a Native American footlocker to the school. They are willing to share this opportunity with other grade levels.
- Second grade would like to make a quilt representing tribes of Montana. The quilt would be made from construction paper and art supplies.
- First grade would like to have a Traditional Games Day with 4 stations for students to experience games, a read-aloud, and possibly Native American music.
- Kindergarten would like to make rainsticks during the Fourth Quarter if there are funds available to purchase additional supplies.
- The library will maintain a hallway bulletin board highlighting Native Americans in Montana.

Materials and Supplies:

The cost of having Mr. Thorsen teach staff how to set up the tipi.

The cost of bringing a footlocker to the school from the Montana Historical Society.

EVERGREEN SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 50

PLAN

Priority Standards and Proficiency Scales

History:

The Evergreen School District makes it a priority to analyze student data to identify student needs, reflect on the implementation of state content standards, and review district curriculum resources. Below is a timeline of specific activities:

- 2015-Present: Continuous Curriculum Review Cycles
- 2019-2020: Creation of Scope and Sequences by Subject and Grade Level
- 2020-2022: Priority was Synchronous/Asynchronous Learning Due to Pandemic
- 2022-2023: Review and Update of Scope and Sequences
 - Math Unit Plans Added for Elementary
- 2023-2024: Review of Scope and Sequence with Addition of Priority Standards and Proficiency Scales

Plan:

- Facilitate staff trainings to:
 - Identify priority standards for content areas and come to consensus as a grade level team.
 - PK-4: ELA Standards
 - 5-8: Content Area Specific
 - Reflect on priority standards through vertical alignment across grade levels.
 - Create proficiency scales for priority standards.
- For specific content areas, use priority standards and proficiency scales adapted from Missoula County Public Schools for the year.
- Update all scope and sequences to include priority standards and proficiency rubrics by May 15, 2024.

Why:

“Regardless of their state, province, or district, teachers routinely ask themselves the same questions: ‘Are some standards more important than others? Which standards will students need in the next class, course, or grade level? Will all the standards be tested?’

Consider this scenario. During a team meeting, the team leader gives teachers a sample unit plan and asks them to identify what is important for students to learn before an upcoming assessment. Teachers embrace the task, but as they work to identify the requisite standards for the upcoming unit, it becomes obvious that each individual teacher is using his or her own unique criteria to prioritize what is essential for students to learn. The result is several different and competing sets of standards based on the teachers’ contrasting views. Agreement on the unit’s essential outcomes remains an elusive goal.

Educational consultant and author Larry Ainsworth (2013) argues this experience is not unique to a single district, school, or team. He suggests: Left to their own professional opinions when faced with the task of narrowing a voluminous number of student learning outcomes, educators naturally “pick and choose” those they know and like best, the ones for which they have materials and lesson plans or activities, and those most likely to appear on state tests (p. 16).

Reaching consensus on a unit’s essential outcomes is important, but many teachers wonder where to begin the task of prioritizing an overwhelming number of standards.”

Family and Community Engagement Plan

- District Family and Community Engagement Team: Mike Barton, Jessica Buck, Sherry Odegard, Jesse McFarland, Kim Anderson, Jim Thompson, Melissa Hardman, Jennifer Doss, Gabby Smith, Geno Cook, and Laurie Barron
- Parent Teacher Conference Days/Evenings: Evergreen School District holds designated Parent Teacher Conferences Days three times per year, which serve as an opportunity for families to have two way communication regarding student progress (1.c.iv, 1.d.iii, 1.d.v 10.55.722).
- School Open House: These annual opportunities allow families to meet with school staff to continuously collaborate in support of student learning (1.c.i, 1.c.ii, 1.c.iii, 1.d.ii 10.55.722).
- Individualized Education Plan (IEP) and 504 Meetings: School staff meet continuously throughout the school year to discuss, review, and, as appropriate, amend IEPs and 504 Plans. Student progress reports are developed and shared with parents/guardians quarterly (1.d.iii, 1.d.v 10.55.722).
- Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) Meetings: Teachers meet regularly to discuss tiered supports for students. This information is placed into electronic folders for each student. Each school reviews MTSS data monthly. This data is shared with parents/guardians when making academic and behavioral plans for students (1.d.ii 10.55.722).
- Pre-School/Early Kindergarten/Kindergarten Home Visits: Each year staff conduct home visits to meet their students and parents prior to these introductory level students beginning school, helping to build relationships between the school, family, and student (1.c.iv, 1.d.i, 1.d.ii 10.55.722).
- School and Community Communication: Evergreen School District communicates with families through a variety of media. The school district website shares vital stakeholder information on District operations as well as school information such as calendars, handbooks, supply lists, staff directories, registration, and extracurricular opportunities. Social media (Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter) is used to help connect the community to the District and schools. Constant Contact, a communication software, is used to routinely send emails to Evergreen School District families and staff to further communicate information. Each quarter, a postcard is mailed to all households in the District and to all registered voters in the District to communicate information and upcoming events (1.c.iv, 1.d.i, 1.d.ii 10.55.722).
- District Community Council: The Evergreen School District Community Council will help engage our District with the community regarding overall District operations and goals for continued improvement as well as with gathering input to determine the primary skills and competencies students need for high school and post-secondary success and to develop a learner/graduate profile that is representative of our Evergreen community. The Community Council is composed of 20 members, including representatives from the District, our partner high school district, the business community, the civic community, the faith-based community, the higher-education community, an elected official, and parents or guardians of current students. For three of the eight scheduled meetings for this school year, the Community Council will meet jointly with our District Leadership Team (DLT), which is composed of 33 staff members representing all certified and classified staff in all schools, grade levels, and departments in the District (10.55.722, 10.55.602).
- Schoolwide Title I Involvement: Title I is a federal program that provides funds to schools with high populations of students with documented financial needs. In order to qualify for Title I funds, 40% of the student body must be eligible for free or reduced priced meals. Approximately 96% of Evergreen students qualify for free or reduced price meals, which allows Evergreen School District to participate in the federal Community Eligibility Provision program offering breakfast and lunch at no cost to all students in our school district. Information on Title I qualifications, resources, and services is communicated to parents and guardians at our schools' open houses and public school board meetings each year. All parents, students, and appropriate staff also sign a yearly Title I Compact, committing to working together to help students be successful (1.d.iv 10.55.722).
- Curriculum Review Cycles: Evergreen School District is on a continuous review cycle to review all Montana Content Standards and district adopted curriculum. A committee of content area specific teachers work throughout the year to review student data, identify student needs, and make recommendations for future curriculum and resources. Parents are invited to participate in the curriculum review process by viewing recommended materials at their child's school. Parents are notified through a school newsletter when curriculum materials are available to be reviewed.
- Evergreen Cares Clinic: Evergreen School District has partnered with Greater Valley Health Center to provide medical and mental health care services to Evergreen students, families, and staff. The Evergreen Cares Clinic is located in East Evergreen Elementary School. This follows a core belief that families and school staff are empowered to advocate for children and partner together to influence policies, practices, and programs (1.d.iv and 1.d.v 10.55.722).
- School and Health Community Liaison: Evergreen School District established this two-year position through grant funding. The position connects families with wrap-around services to help support building healthy homes and improving outcomes for students' overall health, attendance, behavior, and academic achievement. The School Health and Community Liaison ensures communication and connection between Evergreen School District services and student families. Evergreen School District staff and families continuously collaborate to support student learning and healthy development both at home and at school and have regular opportunities to strengthen their knowledge and skills to do so effectively (1.c.iv, 1.d.ii, 1.d.iii, 1.d.iv 10.55.722).

- Community Bus Tour: Before school starts each year, Evergreen School District staff take two school buses out to visit residents of our school district at their homes to deliver back-to-school packets and ice pops to welcome families to the new school year. Staff members also visit civic organizations and businesses promoting back-to-school activities. This activity was communicated on social media as an example of unity between the community and Evergreen School District. The community bus tour is an effective engagement practice to collaborate with families (1.b 10.55.722).
- Student Experience Day: Evergreen School District hosts this event annually the day prior to the first day of school. This event connects parents and guardians with vital resources children need to begin the school year. The school district works with community organizations to provide physicals by health professionals, hair cuts, school supplies, applications for food provisions, as well as information on child care opportunities and after school programs. This event allows families and school staff to collaborate with members of the community in expanding community services for Evergreen families (1.d.vi, 1.c.iv 10.55.722).

- School Field Trips to Community Locations: The District provides strong support for experiential learning opportunities. Numerous field trips take place for all grade levels each year to help connect students to our community. Some examples include Kindergarten to Fire Department, 1st grade to Sweet Pickins Farm, 2nd grade to Vo-Ag center, 3rd grade to Creston Fish Hatchery and to Central School, 4th grade to Pine Grove to Fish, 5th grade to Forestry Expo, 6th grade to Glacier National Park and to Hungry Horse Dam, 7th grade to Flathead Valley Community College, and 8th grade to Rocket Rally at Glacier High School, Eight Days of 8th Grade, and the University of Montana (1.d.vi, 1.d.vii 10.55.722).
- Athletics and Activities: Evergreen School District hosts a variety of athletic programs to include football, volleyball, boys basketball, girls basketball, and cross country. The football program provides cooperative agreements for five other school districts to participate on our football team. In addition, the school district takes the lead in providing cross country meets for 16 participating school districts as well as tournaments for volleyball, boys basketball, and girls basketball (1.c.iv 10.55.722).

Students in 2nd through 8th grades attend this program on a volunteer basis at no cost. The program supports healthy physical and mental stability during times when school is not in session. This program cultivates an inviting and inclusive environment (1.c.iv 10.55.722).

These surveys provide an opportunity for parents/guardians to provide feedback regarding overall school operations and procedures, including the opportunity for open-ended comments (1.c, 1.d 10.55.722).
- Adult Education: Classes for community members are provided annually by the Evergreen School District to connect families to education, interest, and skill-based opportunities, including workforce training, certification opportunities, and health and wellness classes (1.d.vii 10.55.722).
- Evergreen Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club of Evergreen Partnership: Evergreen School District maintains active memberships with these organizations. These partnerships help the District in numerous ways, including events such as the Kids Count in Evergreen Carnival, donations for community belonging initiatives, and funding raised from local businesses to make community t-shirts for parents, students, and community members to wear on Fridays as a display of unity among the Evergreen community. These partnerships are aligned to the district integrated strategic action plan goal #3 To Improve Climate and Culture through family and community connections (1.a, 1.c.iv, 1.d.i 10.55.722).
