COMMUNICATING AS LEADERS

OBJECTIVE

Strengthen school board member leadership skills to provide effective communication within the board room and with the community.

WHAT TO EXPECT:

Participants engage in interactive discussions about scenarios where communication can be challenging.

They learn about their communication style and how to use that to get the outcomes they really want. Attendees practice effective communication with fellow board members and with the public. They are invited to commit to effective communication in their leadership on a board. The information in these sessions is based on Stephen Covey's work with suggestions from Crucial Conversations and actual school board experiences. Come prepared to practice conversing in board meetings and with your public.
