Fluency Story
Bridge 'e'

The Hike

Dad gave me a note that said to meet him on the lawn at nine. We got a rake from the shed then set some seed on the lawn. I do not like to rake the lawn, but it is a rule. "You did a fine job," Dad said. "Let us take a hike."

We got on the long path at ten. Dad fit his nose in a rose. A bee! The bee hid in the rose, but did not bite Dad. Then I saw a big white bug. I set it in a rag to take home. We zip up the mile long path, then sit to sip from a red jug. "This is the life," Dad said.

Dad had been here but I had not. He said to get five fish from the lake. We ate the fish while we had a chat. Then we sang a song. What a fun hike!
