

Elementary

Jax Gardner

Jax has made tremendous strides this year! He went from struggling with transitions to smiling and transitioning anywhere in the first week of school. Jax works hard all day and has surpassed his academic goals for the year. He is loving and is always giving hugs. Jax has met every challenge this year head-on and is showing us all just how brilliant he is!

Nominated by Ms. Gullett

Oakley McJoynt-Griffith

Oakley gives 110% every single day. He always tries his best and produces neat and organized work. He loves challenging himself and will even ask his teacher for extra work! Oakley is our classroom shoe tying helper and he ties his friends' shoes frequently. Students know they can ask Oakley to help them sound out a word if the teacher is busy teaching a small group. Oakley is always happy and eager to help his friends. He is kind to everyone ALWAYS!

Nominated by Mrs. Seigla

Bailey Patten

Bailey is always a leader in and out of the classroom. Bailey goes out of her way daily to help others and teach them new things. She is caring and generous. I always know I can count on Bailey if I need anything.

Nominated by Mrs. Vance

Jr. High/High

Carson Miles

Carson is recognized often for his athletic abilities, but is a great student in the classroom as well. He is responsible and shows up prepared for class. He is agreeable and steps up when needed and is a quiet leader on and off the playing field. During our Day of Balance, he rose to the occasion and did extra things outside of the classroom to help out.

Nominated by Mrs. McKinney

Hannah Noschang

Hannah has demonstrated that she is responsible for her education because she is always aware of her assignment completion, and she consistently monitors her grades. Even though she is busy with extracurricular activities (softball), she still meets her classroom deadlines. When Hannah completes her work, she will take the time to help her peers if they need assistance.

Nominated by Mrs. Tomlin

Christen Williams

Christen is a joy to have in class. She is a hard-worker and she loves to learn. She isn't afraid to ask questions when she doesn't understand, and she strives to do her best on all of her assignments. She helps others when they need it, and does a great job explaining her work to them.
