It was a cold, windy night. The weatherman had said that it may snow overnight. Evie and Ivy were so excited! They were hoping that there would be no school tomorrow. They did the snow dance and went to bed, hoping that it really would snow. Evie and Ivy did not sleep very well because they were so excited. Finally, the girls fell asleep. The next morning both girls woke up an hour early. Evie was an eager child and ran to the window as fast as she could. Ivy was too tired to be so eager. She walked slowly to the window. The girls opened the curtains to find a winter wonderland! The girls let out an excited yell. Mom ran to their room to tell them that school had been canceled! Evie and Ivy had the best day ever!

1. What did the weatherman say may happen?

2. What were Evie and Ivy hoping?

3. What did Evie and Ivy do before they went to bed?

4. How do you know that Evie was eager?

5. What did the girls find outside their window?
