

Partnering With Parents.

Partnerships with parents can help students develop into confident readers with a love of learning.

To support that outcome, we carry a range of content-rich reading materials in our libraries. They can help connect students to growth opportunities and their interests.

Have a question or concern about the books your student is signing out?

Be Involved.

We're here to help you.

Contact your librarian to discuss how our school libraries can support the conversations about reading you have at home with your student and make content choices that work for your family.

Camden
Central School District