

Latexo JrH/HS November Newsletter

“Excellence is the Tiger Way”

Leaders in Learning • Champions in Character • Tiger Proud

November has brought cooler temperatures, and it’s finally beginning to look and feel like fall. What hasn’t cooled, however, is our drive. The pursuit of excellence at Latexo continues to burn brightly across our campus.

This month, our classrooms are alive with purpose and perseverance. Teachers are finding creative ways to challenge students while building meaningful relationships that inspire confidence and curiosity. Across grade levels, our students are demonstrating resilience and ownership — qualities that reflect our ongoing commitment to growth and character.

Meeting with our student leadership team has been one of the highlights of this school year. Their energy, insight, and heart for their peers have produced a noticeable ripple effect throughout our school. From improving communication and campus culture to leading by example, these students are showing that leadership is not about titles — it’s about action and influence.

As we celebrate our Students and Teacher of the Month, we recognize individuals who consistently pursue excellence. They remind us that success is built through effort, humility, and a willingness to keep improving — even when it’s hard.

And as Thanksgiving approaches, I want to express sincere gratitude to our entire Tiger community. To our teachers who pour their passion into every lesson, to our students who rise to every challenge, to all of our staff who are integral to our success and to our parents and community members who stand behind us — thank you. Your support, encouragement, and belief in our mission make all the difference.

This season reminds us that gratitude and excellence go hand in hand. When we appreciate the journey — not just the outcome — we create a culture where learning thrives and character grows.

Excellence is the Tiger Way.

— Mr. Blake Thornton, Principal LHS/LJH