

NDSU honors area educators

NDSU's Office of Admission's Distinguished Education Professional program is honoring four area educators. The program identifies counselors and career center professionals who demonstrate leadership, commitment, excellence in their profession, support of student access to higher education and their support to NDSU.

Congratulations to Mackenzie Tadych, our Director of College, Career and Life Readiness who was one of the four chosen!

Mrs. Tadych says "I love working with learners in my role because they really get to discover their passions, explore a variety of careers and figure out their next step in life. Once learners seek opportunities to explore, my advice is to follow what fulfills them the most. Wherever you are going, always be a learner in life and follow your passions and make connections. Find what fits your feet, not someone else's."
